Internet Freedom

Governments of the Industrial World, you weary giants of flesh and steel, I come from Cyberspace, the new home of Mind. On behalf of the future, I ask you of the past to leave us alone. You are not welcome among us. You have no sovereignty where we gather.

— John Perry Barlow, “A Declaration of the Independence of Cyberspace”

Major ISPs agree to "six strikes" copyright enforcement plan

By Nate Anderson | Published 9 months ago

American Internet users, get ready for ~~three strikes~~ "six strikes." Major US Internet providers—including AT&T, Verizon, Comcast, Cablevision, and Time Warner Cable—have just signed on to a voluntary agreement with the movie and music businesses to crack down on online copyright infringers. But they will protect subscriber privacy and they won't filter or monitor their own networks for infringement. And after the sixth "strike," you won't necessarily be "out."

It's based on Debian Stable.

Free Anonymous Operating System - Tails

It's used in 94 countries with an average client boot seen every 24 seconds around the clock.

We sponsor Tails.

We're doing a bug bounty program. This will fix a lot of bugs/feature requests in upstream.
